Product Design Change Cadence Two-Piece Tank NOW WITH A FRONT-MOUNT LEVER

Valued Customers,

Icera is making a design update to the Cadence two-piece tank - the lever placement is being moved to the front of the tank in all current and future production, instead of its previous position at the side of the tank.

The new lever placement brings the two-piece design in line with the one-piece model, which is also front mount. It also has the added benefit of increasing the reliability of the Cadence tank lever.

As we transition to the new design, you will see Cadence tanks temporarily labeled as T-3170-F. The "-F" suffix indicates a front-mount tank. Once inventory of the old side-mount tanks has been sold through, the suffix will be dropped and only the original T-3170 model number will be kept. We expect this transition to be complete by the end of April. There is no change to corresponding bowl (C-3170-II). All variations of the T-3170 tank (T-3170, T-3170-F) are compatible with the C-3170-II bowl.

The compatible tank lever SKU for the front-mount tank is F-73.xxx. The F-73 will be immediately available in a Polished Chrome finish. Alternate finishes (Polished Nickel, Satin Nickel, Polished Brass, White Enamel, etc.) will also be available.

The front-mount position will also enable a much wider range of compatibility with after-market tank levers from other manufacturers.
